

Match Target Competition HBAR

MATCH TARGET RIFLES

While the Colt name is virtually synonymous with handguns, Sam Colt's initial revolvers off the assembly line were longarms. That's right! The first production model of any Colt was the No.1 Ring Lever Rifle.

The carbine breech (attachable shoulder stocks for handguns) and America's first slide action rifle were also part of Colt's on-and-off ventures into longarms. Then in 1963 the AR-15 and M16 .223 (5.56mm) automatic rifles "made Colt's the small-arms sensation of modern warfare".

Their unmatched accuracy, performance and durability are available in their direct descendent, the Colt semiautomatic-only, sporting rifles. They're ideal for hunting, plinking and competition shooting.

MODEL NAME FINISH ACTION

MT6700 / MT6700C
Match Target Competition HBAR
Matte black
- Semi Auto
- Gas operated
- Multi-lug rotary locking bolt

CALIBER CAPACITY BARREL LENGTH RIFLING TWIST RIFLING GROOVES TRIGGER

.223 Rem
9 Rounds
20"
RH. 1 Turn in 9"
6
Smooth

FRONT SIGHT

Adjustable post for elevation

REAR SIGHT

Adjustable for windage and elevation

SIGHT RADIUS

20 1/4"

WEIGHT

8.5 lbs

OVERALL LENGTH

39"

SPECIAL FEATURES

- Flat top receiver allows for scope mounting
- Compensator (MT6700C)

